DIARY NOTES

1. Emmett Echols talked to me about [REDACTED] new employment status. His question was whether Bill should retire and then be picked up as a contract employee or whether it would be permissible to change his status without actually effecting his retirement. Apparently it would be much simpler administratively and in some ways advantageous to [REDACTED] to do the latter. I approved but asked Emmett to write a brief memorandum for my signature documenting the approval.

2. I went with [REDACTED] home to process him out since his retirement is effective today. Henry and Ben were well prepared, and the whole procedure went very smoothly.

3. I told Mr. Kirkpatrick that we could not meet his 21 November deadline on the communications paper, and he extended the deadline until 27 November. I have, however, given the Office of Communications a deadline of 25 November.

4. I also told Mr. Kirkpatrick that we were deferring our letter to the Secretary of State on [REDACTED] pending [REDACTED] return there and the receipt of his comments on the proposed agreement, which I expect to have next week.
